Report on Industrial Visit Cum Workshop

The Institution's Innovation Council and Department of Home-Economics organized an Industrial Visit Cum Workshop at Samruddhi Kaushalya Kendra, Akola on February 10th, 2024. The event saw participation from 16 students and 3 faculty members. Mrs. Angha Dixit, the proprietor of Kaushalya Samruddhi Kendra, led the session by demonstrating the process of block printing on cloth. Participants actively engaged in learning the art of block printing and acquired entrepreneurial skills, fostering motivation among the students. Dr. Ujawala Bajpai, Dr. Vidhya Dhruve, and Dr. Rupa Gupta, the IIC Convener, played pivotal roles in ensuring the success of this visit.

Block printing on cloth is a traditional textile printing method that involves transferring designs onto fabric using wooden or metal blocks. All the students and faculties followed following steps:

- ✦ Design Preparation: The design is first created or selected for printing. It could be a traditional motif or a contemporary pattern.
- ✦ Block Carving: Skilled artisans carve the design onto wooden or metal blocks. Each block is meticulously crafted to ensure precision in printing.
- ✦ Fabric Preparation: The fabric to be printed is washed and prepared to ensure it is clean and free from any impurities that may affect the printing process.
- ✦ Block Printing: The fabric is spread flat on a printing table or surface. The carved block is dipped into the chosen colour or dye and pressed firmly onto the fabric. This process is repeated multiple times to create the desired pattern or design.

✦ Drying and Fixing: Once the printing is complete, the fabric is left to dry naturally or may undergo additional processes such as steaming or washing to fix the colours and ensure they remain vibrant and long-lasting.

✦ Finishing Touches: After drying, the printed fabric may undergo finishing touches such as ironing or trimming to achieve the final desired appearance.

In nutshell, block printing on cloth is a beautiful and intricate art form that requires skill, patience, and attention to detail, and it offers endless possibilities for creativity and expression in textile design.

Report on Innovation & Entrepreneurship Outreach Program in Community

On February 22nd, 2024, the collaborative efforts of the Institution's Innovation Council (IIC) and the Department of Home Economics culminated in a practical session on Innovation & Entrepreneurship Outreach Program in Community. Hosted at the Department of Floriculture and Landscape Architecture, Dr. Panjabrao Deshmukh Krishi Vidhyapeeth, Akola, the event aimed to instill entrepreneurial spirit and foster innovative thinking among faculty members and students. Under the able guidance of Dr. Manisha Deshmukh, who served as the esteemed resource person, participants were enlightened on the nuances of entrepreneurship and innovation within the realm of community engagement.

The session centered on providing practical insights into the integration of innovation and entrepreneurship within community initiatives. Dr. Manisha Deshmukh, leveraging her expertise in the field, meticulously guided attendees through the process of identifying opportunities, developing innovative solutions, and effectively implementing entrepreneurial ventures within the community.

The Department of Floriculture and Landscape Architecture served as an apt setting for the practical demonstrations conducted during the session. Faculty members showcased various facets of entrepreneurship, ranging from the cultivation of diverse flora such as roses and Goldmary to the production of value-added products like rose drinks. Additionally, participants were acquainted with innovative ventures involving vegetable cultivation, including carrots and beetroot, and the preparation of shrabat from these resources.

A noteworthy aspect of the session was the involvement of self-help group women, who exemplified entrepreneurial success through their showcased businesses. Their first-hand demonstrations not only provided valuable insights into practical business operations but also served as a source of inspiration for aspiring entrepreneurs among the student community. Through their stories and achievements, the self-help group women motivated students to leverage their creativity and entrepreneurial drive to embark on similar endeavours.

The session witnessed active participation from 40 students and 3 faculty members, who seized the opportunity to glean valuable insights and practical knowledge from the event. By

Report

Visit to Taran Hari Namkin and Sweets Industry

The students of B.A Sem IV(Home Economics) and Prof. Dr. Vidya Dhruve visited Taran Hari Namkin and Sweets Food Industry, MIDC Akola on date 27th March 2024 at 10 AM. 25 students visited to food industry. The purpose of this visit was to understand the manufacturing processes, quality control measures, and business strategies involved in the production of traditional Indian snacks and sweets.

The Objectives of visit are as follows

1. To learn about the production process of various namkin and sweets.
2. To understand the quality control measures implemented by the company.
3. To gain insights into the business operations and marketing strategies.
4. To observe the packaging and distribution process.

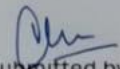

Taran Hari Namkin and Sweets is a well-developed company, established in 2002 by Mrs. Swati Varma. It is known for its high-quality traditional Indian snacks and sweets. With a legacy spanning several decades, the company has built a reputation for its authentic taste and adherence to quality standards.

Upon arrival, the students were greeted by the company's Manager Mr. Kamlesh Varma and their management team. The visit began with a brief introduction to the company's history and its product range. This was followed by a detailed tour of the manufacturing facilities. The students observed the stages in the production process such as Ingredient Selection, Preparation, Cooking Quality Control, Packaging and Distribution.

The management team provided insights into their business operations, highlighting the aspects like Market Research, Branding and Advertising and Customer Feedback

The visit to Taran Hari Namkin and Sweets Company was an enriching experience for the B.A Sem 4 students. It provided valuable insights into the traditional snack and sweet manufacturing industry. The students gained a deeper understanding of the meticulous processes involved in maintaining quality and meeting consumer expectations.

We extend our gratitude to the management and staff of Taran Hari Namkin and Sweets Company for their warm hospitality and for providing us with this educational opportunity.
